COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Mrs. Ruth DeCoteau of the Oxford County Extension Service gave a very nice demonstration of the use of surplus food on Thursday and Friday of last week. The demonstration included the use of nearly all the donated commodities and also many everyday ideas for cooking and meal planning.

The surplus food program has been changed a lot this summer. Any town that receives the surplus food must follow certain rules. There has been some comment that some of the recipients seem to be very well off to receive surplus food. Every recipient is re-certified every third month and must have an income and liquid assets below a standard set by the Health and Welfare Department. I think the biggest error is made in assuming that the person picking up the surplus food is getting it for himself. In many cases the person picking up the surplus food is doing it for someone who is unable to pick up the things.

After sampling nearly all of the elm trees that were reported, I find that the Dutch Elm Disease program has been changed this year. The town must be divided into control areas and these areas are the only places that will qualify for reimbursement by the State Forest Service.

GORMANS HOLD OPEN HOUSE

On Sunday, August 4, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorman celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary by holding open house at their camp at Songo Pond. The affair was planned by their daughter, Mrs. Edward Wheeler, who was assisted by Mrs. Gardner Gorman, Mrs. Leonard Kimball, Mrs. Arthur Tanguay, and Mrs. Sudie Vachon. The guest book was circulated by the Misses Wendy Wheeler and Ethel Kimball. Mrs. Leona Flint presented the couple with a lovely three-tier cake. Mrs. Grace Coburn also presented the honor guests with a ruby-red rose corsage and boutonniere. Many gifts and a "money bouquet" were received from their friends and neighbors.

Of the eighty guests who called during the afternoon, out-

MOLLYCOKETT DAY ATTRACTS GOOD CROWD

Bethel's Mollycokett Day, under the capable direction of Randall and Sarah Stevens and their committees, was another successful day from start to finish. There was a good crowd in attendance from the time the booths opened in the morning until the beano game and street dance closed at night, and good weather prevailed all day except for the few sprinkles as the last of the line passed through for supper.

There was a good crowd in attendance at the auction in the afternoon, and a great deal of interest shown in the art show in the barn of the Chapman Estate.

A large crowd was in attendance at the baked bean supper on the Common from 5 to 7, served by the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church, assisted by the Men's Brotherhood of the Methodist Church, and the concert by the Bethel Town Band, under the direction of James B. Owen was greatly enjoyed.

Ranald and Sarah Stevens, who served as co-chairmen for this affair, would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who helped in any way to make it such a success. At this date the net results are not known but it is hoped that by next week it will be possible to make an announcement of the total net proceeds.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Carol Flint was tendered a surprise birthday party at the Community Room last night in honor of her eighteenth birthday. The honor guest was presented with gifts and also a corsage sent by her brother, Frank Flint, his wife Susan, and daughter, Wendy.

Following an evening of dancing and general sociability, refreshments were served by Mrs. Leona Flint and Miss Lorraine Eames.

Those attending were: Carol Flint, Lorraine Eames, Gertrude Waldron, Judy Judkins, Martha Keniston, Julia Brown, Sharyn Hardy, Kathie Clemons, Cindy Chayer, Katy Feener, Bob Clemons, Al Grover, Lewis Farwell, Mattie Brooks, Stuart Twitchell, James Bennett, Stephen Dock, Trafton Foster, George Epper, Peter Pierce, Paul Pierce.

The Age of Private Transportation

"Get the farmer out of the mud" was the battle cry of the highway program in the 1920's and 1930's. In the early days of the automobile age, a paved road outside of the limits of a city or incorporated town was rare enough to be a curiosity.

Today, almost 70 percent of the 3,127,225 miles of rural roads in the United States have some kind of surfacing. A substantial amount of the remaining non-surfaced road mileage is so little traveled that paving is not justified; nevertheless, much remains to be done before we can claim a complete all-weather road system in the United States.

Nowadays, however, "getting the farmer out of the mud" is one among many objectives of the national highway program. The automobile and the truck have become such an integral part of American life that good highway transportation is essential to the success of almost every activity. Industries, schools, churches and shopping centers share the farmer's vital concern with the highway program. Commuters get stuck in urban traffic jams more often than farmers get stuck in the mud.

The essentiality of highway transportation to the national economy and the national defense is reflected in the Federal-aid highway program, which has assisted the States in the improvement of their highway networks since 1916.

Federal-aid expenditures for highways, increasing in line with the increase in highway travel, now approximate $3 billion per year, all of which is collected by means of special taxes on highway users, chiefly the 4-per-gallon Federal tax on gasoline.

These special tax receipts are allocated by Congress to four categories of Federal-aid highway expenditures: (1) aid to the State primary, or trunk-line, highways; (2) aid to farm-to-market roads; (3) aid for the improvement of city arterial streets and expressways and (4) aid in the construction of the 41,000-mile National System of Interstate and Defense Highways, the new system of coast-to-coast interconnected expressways needed to meet our defense needs and to serve as the backbone for our total highway network. The Federal government pays 80% of the construction cost of the Interstate highways and 50% on other Federal-aid highways.

State, local and Federal officials are all working together to coordinate their highway construction activities, recognizing that the roads are economic and social lifelines which are the key to better living for all of us.

20 SECONDS with the NAZARENE

Paul said, "If any man be in Christ he is a new creature; old things are passed away, behold all things are become new."

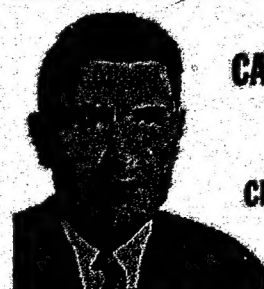

Wh. Bray said of his conversion, "Everything looked new to me, I was like a new man in a new world."

God declared, "Behold, I make all things new!"

CAPITOL COMMENTS

CONGRESSMAN
CLIFFORD G. MCINTIRE
MAINE, SECOND DISTRICT

The word has recently gone out that President Kennedy is planning to direct Secretary of State Rusk to explore the prospects of negotiating international agreements to limit shipments of wool and worsted textiles to the United States. I sincerely hope that this is so, for over the last few years I have repeatedly requested the President to initiate a program of import controls on wool. I was particularly active in this respect when I was a member of the so-called Vinson Committee, a special Committee of the House of Representatives, that conferred with the President on textile matters. The Committee expired with the end of the last Congress and I have urged that it be reconstituted.

And just the other day—when I was down at the White House on the Quoddy matter—I inquired of a Presidential Assistant as to Mr. Kennedy's plan for instituting a wool import control program. Unfortunately, I received no assurance that any such plan was in process.

Then, on July 28, I received advice from a White House Assistant to the effect that the Administration was entertaining the thought of referring this wool matter to the Tariff Commission for study.

I was disturbed at this, for it is well known that hearings before the Tariff Commission are usually quite long and drawn out. It appeared that protection against wool imports was again being sidetracked.

And now, as the most recent development, it is reported that President Kennedy is giving serious consideration to a wool import control program. One might say that it is high time, for back in 1961 the President drew up a 7-point program designed to provide assistance for our troubled textile industry—and one of the points of this program was import control on textiles.

Still, well over two years have gone by without any protective action being taken, and the situation in the domestic wool industry has continued to go from bad to worse. For instance, just a few months ago, wool imports were just about 16% of domestic production, and they have grown steadily until today when they are almost 20%. And as these imports continue to increase, so do the drop-outs in our domestic wool industry.

I am concerned about this condition because Maine has about 14,000 persons employed in textile work, with a substantial percentage of these employees working at wool establishments—the sad truth is that as wool imports come in, wool businesses go out of business and wool workers out of work.

I sincerely hope that President Kennedy's time of waiting is past and that his hour for action is at hand—it is all too true that to wait is to lose.

"Working hours are the safest hours. Last year, nearly seven out of ten accidental deaths, and more than half the total accidental injuries, occurred off the job." — National Safety Council.

BETHEL AND VICINITY

Miss Donna Rice left last week for Portland, Maine, where she is employed as a part-time nurse at the Maine Osteopathic Hospital on Brighton Avenue.

Guests of Mrs. S. S. Greenleaf the past week have been her cousin, Mrs. Sibyl Smith of Roxbury, Conn., and Mrs. Carol Cervone and daughter, Carolyn of West Medford, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Stowell, III, daughters, Rachel and Sandra, of South Portland, arrived Tuesday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Luxton, Mason St.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cutler of Farmington were guests last week end of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorman at their cottage on Songo Pond. Mr. and Mrs. Cutler are former residents of Bethel.

Rev. and Mrs. Burton Linseott and children of Hawaii, have arrived in Bethel and are spending some time at their cottage on Songo Pond. Mrs. Linseott is the former Eugenie Saunders of Bethel.

Mrs. William D. Dampier, Brian and Clyde, left today for their home in Gainesville, Fla., after visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall, in Raymond, N. H., with Mr. and Mrs. Custer Quimby; and in Hampden with Mrs. Eugene McNally.

The Bethel Library is holding a children's reading hour on Tuesday and Thursday for the next two weeks, August 13, 15, 20 and 22. All children ages 3 to 8 are welcome to come to the library lawn, where they will be read to from 2:30 to 3 p. m. weather permitting.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Robertson and boys returned home Monday after spending the week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ted Green and children, Oakdale, Cal., who are spending some time with relatives in Lubec, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred White and children, Jonesport and Belfast.

CARD OF THANKS

A very special thank you to everyone that helped with the Locke Mills Community Club supper this summer. There was a lot of hard work and extra cooking involved and your help is greatly appreciated.
Margery Swan, Pres.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for a happy and delightful time which they gave us on our anniversary, Sunday. We enjoyed every minute, again many thanks.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Presumably the custom of closing stores and other establishments during certain funerals originated when the Town was small and with stores mostly owner-operated to provide these owners time to attend. Nowadays most stores have employees and the proprietor can leave at will.

For whom were these "certain funerals" selected? "Eminent citizens"? With our multiplicity of activities now, who is to say impartially who is more deserving than another? It is obvious not all agree on selections anyway when one goes to another to ask if he is closing and thinks he has to if the other does. Furthermore in these days of publicly regulated concerns they are not legally allowed to close.

So to be fair to all concerned could it be that this would be timely for each to consider adopting a policy of not generally closing?

It should be said this is the opinion of many qualified persons interviewed but in no way suggests less respect to be paid the departed as it merely is presented for consideration.

Who buys more Savings Bonds?

As statistical-minded as we are to-day, the Treasury Department can't answer that question.

The Treasury does know that U.S. Savings Bonds are owned by tens of millions of families. So it might be safe to assume that people in every walk of life belong to this "savings club."

This is a happy fact for the United States, and for the free peoples of the earth. For Savings Bond dollars are playing an important role in the making of history.

This $46 billion reserve in the government's hands is working vigorously today to help our country in the major struggle to defend freedom.

At the same time, Savings Bonds help build your personal purchasing power by paying good interest and providing a method of saving that's unconditionally safe and readily cashable. And the higher your purchasing power, the better it speaks for our system.

It all adds up to one of the best ways you can save money and at the same time help your country. Start buying Bonds next payday—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or from any bank—and see if you don't feel pretty good about it.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertisement. The Treasury Department thanks the Advertising Council and this newspaper for their patriotic support.

WIGHTS HONORED ON 50th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Wight of Newry were guests of honor at an open house at Bear River Grange Hall, Sunday, July 28, honoring their 50th wedding anniversary. The affair was planned by their sons and daughters-in-law. Fred Wight and Ida Littlehale were married in Newry, Aug. 1, 1913. They have lived their entire married life in the house where both Fred and his father, Willard B. were born. Fred and Ida Wight have four sons, George, Errol, N. H.; Willard, Stillwater; and Paul and Fredrick Owen, Newry. They have 20 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

A family cookout and barbecue was enjoyed on the lawn at noon, with W. Stanley Hale, Norwich, Conn., officiating at the barbecue pit.

Open house was held at the Bear River Grange Hall in the afternoon from 3:30 until 8.

Flower arrangements were by Mrs. Bertha Davis, and Mrs. Helen Morton. Mrs. Grace Coburn, Bethel presented Mrs. Wight with a corsage and Mr. Wight with a boutonniere. The anniversary cake was made by their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bethelyn Wight, and served by Mrs. Martha Lane, sister of Mrs. Wight. Refreshments were served by the family. Miss Cynthia Wight, the couple's granddaughter, was in charge of the guest book. The honored couple received many nice presents and were presented a money tree by friends and neighbors.

Attending besides the honored guests were: Mr. and Mrs. F. Household Hints

BY JOAN MARCH WORDEN

Director, Fine Cleaner Information Center.

Do you have a pet peeve in housecleaning? Here is one housemaker's terrible trio - and some suggestions on how to deal with them about three hard jobs.

Veneer Blinds - Spring or summer is the season to tackle these - outdoors. If you have a child's wading pool handy, fill it with warm water and pine oil cleaner. Then line up all your blinds and up-end them in the pool. Sponge slats, take the blinds out on the lawn and hose down for rinsing. Dry blinds by laying them flat on the lawn just until the moisture runs off. (Putting them on a beach towel keeps slats free of grass cuttings.) Hang blinds up and let them finish drying on the window. If you get the urge to blind-clean in the winter - or if you are a city dweller - pine clean the blinds in the bathtub. Hang them to drip over a shower rod - or lay flat in drained tub until excess moisture drains off.

Ovens - Don't let your oven get too grimy. After you cook a food that is especially spattery, soak racks as soon as possible in a solution of grease-dissolving pine oil cleaner and water. Use a sponge or household cleaning pad which has been dunked in a pine cleaner to swab the inside of the oven. Let the cleaning solution set to do its best work - then, rinse racks and oven inside with hot water.

Bathrooms - Enlist helping hands here. Each person who uses the bathroom should tidy up in small ways to make the big clean-up job quick and easy. Replace towels neatly; clean tub after using; sponge sink, rescue soap. You can help your helping hands by keeping a general-purpose pine cleaner in the bathroom, along with a long-handled sponge. These two minutes on the part of each member of the household will help cut down the weekly cleaning routine. At weekly bathroom clean-up use a pine oil cleaner to disinfect, clean, and deodorize tile, metal, porcelain and glass.

Your terrible trio can be less terrible when you put a good pine oil cleaner to work for you.

For a set of eight free "Household Hints" leaflets and a Cleaning Checklist, write to Dept. OH, Pine Cleaner Information Center, 1023 Connecticut Avenue, Washington 36, D.C.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

— Mrs. Olive Davis, Cor. —

Mrs. Gayden Davis visited with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis in Freeport recently. Lorraine Davis did the house work for her while she was gone.

Susan Woods of Massachusetts visited Rebecca Andrews the past week. She left for a two weeks stay at Ocean Park this week end.

Jessie Andrews was at Ocean Park and other points of interest recently with the girls who lived at the Richardson boarding house while attending school at South Paris. They have had a reunion every year since.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis M. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bryant went to Augusta, Sunday. They visited Irving Cushman and family at their camp on Narrows Pond. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis M. Davis went into the Maine State Grange headquarters in Augusta where Mr. Davis had a business meeting with Carleton Chadbourne and J. Merrill Hatch, State Master.

Quinn P. Davis and Edith Bryant were in Rumford on Thursday shopping. They called on Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Heath before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Davis called on Mr. and Mrs. James Mason Friday morning. Mrs. Mason conducted them on a tour of her home. It is lovely. Mr. Mason showed the Davises his collection of deer horns of all types and ages, moose horns, elk, etc. He also showed the horn chair he is making which is really quite an oddity. It is unbelievable what he has done with the horns. Most of them have been picked up in the woods after the deer have shed them in late fall or early winter.

I. W. Andrews & Son are building a new dam in the Mill Pond as the old one rotted away. The water has furnished part of the power for some of their machines for years.

Ellis and Olive Davis visited at Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks' camp on Twitchell Pond, Saturday evening. The occasion was a Grange cookout, invitations being extended to the Grangers for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Titus spent a few days at Camp Eureka last week. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Barrett of Sumner took supper with them while they were there. Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Barrett entertained them for supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Dicky Baker and family of West Paris and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heath of West Peru are in the Andrews camp this coming week.

Mrs. Anita Bisbee and friends are occupying the Davis camp this week on North Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hill, son David and friends from North Quincy spent the week end at New Camp Gundy on Shagge Pond, Sumner. Mrs. Hil-da Halleck of Malden, Mass., came down with them and visited with her daughter, Mrs. Lenwood Andrews, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodridge visited Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Andrews over Sunday returning to Rangeley Monday.

Louise Andrews of Bryant Pond visited Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Andrews Friday.

Miss Judy Clements who has been caring for David and helping Mrs. Nicholas Clements, while she is recuperating, returned home this week.

CARD OF THANKS

I deeply appreciate the notes of encouragement, blood donors and others who have been so very kind.

ART SHOW NOTES

Forty-two pictures by twenty-six exhibitors attracted the largest crowd yet to Bethel's 4th show for local painters. In addition to the names listed in last week's paper, pictures were exhibited by Pat Sweetser, Sheila Gilbert, and Sue Wight. We are sorry that they entered them too late to be included on the program. Mr. Goddard also sent in two silhouettes of the Twitchells, the earliest settlers of this town.

About one third of the people who attended preferred not to vote for the picture liked best but two hundred and seventy-nine ballots were cast. Every picture received some votes but the highest total was for Geneva Vail's "Artist's Bridge," Betty Anderson's "Higgins Wharf, Bay Point, Maine" and Shirley Keenan's "West Branch Camp, Kokadzo, Maine" were close seconds. Other very popular pictures were: Betty Muraz's picture of two dogs; Marah Webster's still life with wine glass and book; Geneva Vail's "McCall's Cat"; Walter Clark's "Conference"; Hamilton Bailey's "Square Rigger"; Shirley Keenan's "Conrad Farm, Newry"; and Pat Sweetser's picture of deer. Our two abstracts, "Seasick" and "The All Around Sportman" produced a lot of comments.

Edith Howe sold her picture of "Kathy and the Ducks" to Hilda Perlish, a NTL staff

Henry E. Howe, for the Andrews-Howe lot	50
Charles P. Bartlett, for the Ball Bartlett lot	50

member who is in the Dept. of Psychiatry at the Massachusetts General Hospital and Alma Young sold her picture of mother and baby (the very small picture on shelf under the "Square Rigger") to a Boston dentist.

Several groups of visitors came who work on amateur shows in other towns (one group from Woodstock, Vt.) and all felt that our Bethel painters put on a fine exhibit. They were particularly impressed with the fact that such a large number of year round residents painted and that such a variety of techniques were used. The floral arrangements by Betty Twitchells and Ruth Pierce, were much admired.

Thanks to Philip Isakson of Lewiston, we were able to carry on the policy of having one loan exhibit by a Maine artist who is known throughout the United States. Roger Prince's bronze sculpture, "Three Trumpeters" evoked a variety of responses. A few people were highly enthusiastic over it, a few somewhat disliked it, but the majority were interested in seeing how the effect was produced.

All our painters should be very encouraged at having such a large enthusiastic public watching their progress, and we already look forward to seeing what they will produce for us next year.

MAINE RESIDENTS MAY OBTAIN PROOF OF AGE FROM CENSUS BUREAU

Last year, about 300 residents of Maine turned to the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, for help in proving where and when they were born. The Bureau reported today. They needed proof of age to collect social security and other retirement benefits. They needed it to obtain passports for jobs carrying certain age or citizenship requirements. They needed it for some forms of insurance.

These persons who requested assistance from the Census Bureau last year were among an estimated 20 million United States residents who are without proof of age or birthplace. The historical records of the Census Bureau provided the only acceptable source of this information for many of these people. Since its beginning in 1790, the U. S. Census has recorded identifying data for almost 250 million persons. Many of them listed several times in separate censuses. The Bureau has provided copies of these records to about three and one-half million people, as legal proof of age, place of birth, citizenship, or kinship.

Persons seeking such a record for social security purposes should go to the local Social Security Office, or, for other purposes, write to the Personal Census Service Branch, Bureau of the Census, Pittsburgh, Kansas, for an application form. A fee of $3.00 is charged for a search of not more than two censuses for one person and for

Mr. and Mrs. David Brown (Miss Beverly June Blake) who were married at the Bethel Methodist Church on June 15.

UPTON

— Mrs. C. A. Judkins, Cor. —

A freak happening took place a few nights ago during the thunderstorm, two days after the Public Service of Berlin, N. H., took over the Light Co. The lights suddenly went out about 9:30 p. m. Someone tried to telephone to the company in Berlin, but the telephone line was so bad there was no service out of town, so they contacted the Forestry Service, who contacted the Forestry Service of Cupertine by short wave. From there the message was relayed to Berlin. When the manager of the company got to Errol, N. H., he found lights on, so kept on coming toward Upton. When he got to the Clinton Ferry place, he found on the ground the cover of the transformer which steps down the power for usage in town. So he had to get a new transformer from Lancaster, N. H., and two servicemen from Berlin. Service on the power line was resumed at 4:30 a. m. the next morning.

CARD OF THANKS

My family and I wish to express our sincere thanks to all of the people who sent me cards at the St. Louis Hospital in Berlin—also to the State Highway crew for the lovely flowers. I am now at the V. A. Hospital in Togus, Maine.
